Our Process

This wine is a tribute to our grandparents, Mario & Lena Lanza. Mario was a partner with the Oakland Scavenger Co and was injured on his route during WWII blackouts. Following his doctor's advice, they moved from the Italian area of Oakland (Temescal) to Suisun Valley's warmer climate. In 1944 they planted their roots in this small valley and fell in love with the land. To make this port-style wine, we allow the grapes to stay on the vine until the seasonal rain is imminent to maximize the sugar level before harvesting.

Tasting Notes

This sweet dessert wine explodes with aromas of ripe blackberry, boysenberry, and plum—flavors of almond, espresso, and chocolate-covered cherry. A smooth finish coats the palate with cocoa and raspberry. Overall, it's multilayered, inviting, and continues to unfold as you enjoy it. It's terrific on its own or paired with spiced cookies, gingerbread, almond cakes, or orange-scented desserts.

Another great option is to pour it on vanilla ice cream.
